FRIDAY JULY 7, 1911

If on my theme I rightly think,
There are five reasons why men drink—
Good wine, a friend, because I'm dry,
Or lest I should be by and by,
Or any other reason why.
—John Sirmont.

Honolulu can have free garbage collection if the people want it. Don't try to place the blame on someone else.

California will make a final fight in support of the American merchant marine whether Honolulu is ready to do its share or not.

Keio may gain a victory over Honolulu after having the experience of a tour through the States, but it will not be a walk-away.

Here's to the man who found he had two dollars too much and turned it back to the County. He ought to be sure of work any time he needs it.

Billions of mosquitoes now hold Honolulu completely under their control. If they are not wiped out before the Panama canal is opened there'll be trouble.

Keep the city free from port quarantine scares and the hot summer spells of the east should be worth hundreds of thousands of dollars to Honolulu.

Honolulu has had all the warnings that any city could possibly have. The people and the officials have now to stop talking so much and get in and do something.

Photographs of the man as well as his record make the man who told the story of the Los Angeles dynamiting appear like a second edition of Harry Orchard.

When the Steel Trust has an international organization for holding up the people of the earth, then the international supreme court should be forced into existence as one of the items of self preservation.

With one or two exceptions, Governor Frear has selected his harbor commission on much the same theory as would be manifest in sending to the small farmers for a commission to revise the laws of the Territory.

It is hard to figure that the country is becoming more irreligious when the Christian Endeavorers increase at the rate of a million a year. The people are more sensible than formerly and take the Golden Rule in place of a manufactured creed.

No objection whatever to the Board of Health inspectors looking after the fruit fly, after everything possible has been done to keep the mosquito in check. The pest that can kill men should have more attention than that which tackles table delicacies.

Col. Goethals, chairman and chief engineer of the Canal Commission, says that he will have ships going through the canal by July, 1913. That is two years distant, and what is Honolulu doing to put itself in readiness for the new business of the canal?

Many business men seem to think that the Supervisors are mind readers. They are not elected on that platform. And the business man has no real complaint coming till he goes before the Supervisors, presents his views and is ignored. This has not yet happened, so why not try to build up Honolulu by working with the city government instead of sitting in an easy chair and making faces at it.

"It is true that the legal profession, as a profession, does not enjoy the confidence of the people. You are too technical; you are business men on strictly legal lines. The community no longer regards you as legal guides."

This is what Governor Woodrow Wilson told the members of the New Jersey Bar Association the other day. And Woodrow Wilson is one of the acknowledge possibilities for the Presidency.

DELEGATE KUHIO'S MYSTERY.

Delegate Kuhio, whatever his other faults may be, does not tell the public white lies. Consequently when he makes the statement over his own signature that he has not at any time attempted to oppose the acceptance and approval of the Territorial bond issue by the President, his word may be accepted rather than that of others who have made a special business of stating half truths and deliberate falsehoods.

But when it comes to some other things, the Delegate's course remains a mystery.

The Bulletin is free to confess that it cannot fathom what he is driving at on the Governorship question. We believe the Delegate is entirely honest in saying that he does not want the position, but it has yet to appear what is to come of the constant hammering away at the Governor when there is no candidate in sight with whom to oppose the present incumbent, who has announced his candidacy for reappointment.

To one on the outside, the Delegate's attitude appears too much of the givendamnones variety to enlist very much of a following.

This paper believes that candidacy for the Governorship of this Territory is an entirely worthy ambition. It also believes that the Territory is not so short of men that only one can be found who is capable of filling the position. But if the competing candidate is not in sight, what is to be gained by threatening the Republican party through the present incumbent.

It may be that the Delegate is preparing the way for a dark horse who will be announced at a later date. Perhaps he is testing the depth of the discontent and by sounding a stirring note of opposition is waiting to see how many will rally to the standard. If this be the case we still believe the Delegate is wasting energy, when the rallying cry is "anybody but Frear," with no one informed of who "anybody" is.

We believe that this paper voices a very general sentiment when it declares that Governor Frear has made some signal successes and some miserable failures. Whether justified or not, he is growing weaker instead of stronger in popular support, and this weakness is not due to his having lost popularity by standing in the way of men who wanted to flimflam the government. It is purely the result of his shifting, evasive and secretive methods in dealing with citizens whom he represents and in the administration of the Government.

But until an opponent comes into the open and calmly and insistently declares that he is willing to accept the office and has confidence in his capacity to satisfy the demands of the position, what's the use of hanging away at Frear, when there is so much to be done in keeping Hawaii and the city of Honolulu on an even pace with the progress of national events.

The Bulletin knows the Delegate to be a man of absolutely independent opinions. If he gets started on a given line of public duty he will see it through regardless of consequences to himself, but the public must be taken more into his confidence on the ultimate aims of his campaign before it will enthuse in a manner that would seem satisfactory to him.

THANKS.

Mr. W. R. Farrington, Editor Evening Bulletin.

Dear Sir:—The generous and encouraging support you are giving The King's Daughters through the columns of your valuable paper in their efforts to raise funds for the purpose of building a permanent "Home" for the aged white men and women in our Territory is bearing fruit and setting the public thinking of the great need there is here for such a home. You were given a unanimous vote of thanks by the Circle last evening at their meeting.

Yours respectfully,
SALLIE L. WILLIAMS,
Secretary.

LAND OF PUUPUEO

Manoa Valley

Since we began selling lots in this land we have learned a thing or two:

First—That the real demand is for medium-size house lots; and in accordance with our suggestion the owner has subdivided the two large lots into twelve smaller ones, containing from 18,000 to 20,000 square feet. Still good-sized lots!

Second—That the lots in this land come pretty near selling themselves. The reason? Because the lots are not remnants nor undesirable left over after the pick, but are the real choice locations. This is easily proved by a visit to the land. Let us show you!

We Are Progressive

THE MERCHANDISE we are now showing places the store of JORDAN'S preminent in the Dry Goods Trade of Honolulu. The magnificent display in every department has won for us this week congratulations from the ladies of this city.

We are proud of our grand stock, knowing that better goods, more exclusive ideas, and sterling value are not procurable anywhere. The lady who sends her money out of town is the one we specially appeal to. Our prices will compare favorably with the largest mainland store. Our selection of suitable merchandise is hard to beat anywhere.

Help us build up Honolulu by shopping at home.

We have the goods. We invite your account.

We stand back of our stock with the guarantee of money returned if not satisfied. You can do better right here in our store than most places. We respectfully ask your kind inspection.

EVENING SMILES

I took dinner at the Plaza last night. I like the Plaza, they are so courteous there. Every time they put your check by your plate they lay it face down. I asked one of the waiters why they always do that, and he said:

"Well, one time a waiter brought a man's check just as he was drinking his coffee and laid it face up, and the man choked to death."

While I was walking along the street the other day I met a man pushing an invalid rolling chair, inwhich sat a man with a sign hanging on his chest, "Please help the blind." I was touched—as it were. I dug down and gave the fellow a dollar, and then, curiosity getting the better of me, I asked of the man pushing the chair:

"Do you take this poor fellow out every day?"
"Oh, no," he answered. "One day I take him out and the next day he takes me out."

I've never had much use for water unless I heard water works.
